Pretty Typewriter Rejects Employer's Proposal and Quits.

SHE IS 17 AND HE—60.

Miss Allee Says She Respects
Dr. de Kraft, but Does Not Love Him.

STORY ROUSES HIS IRE.

Angrily Refuses to Discuss Case or Escapades of Man of Same
Name Decade Ago.

Whether pretty stenographer Lois Allee, a stenographer, but not down a millionaire when she refused to marry her employer Dr. William R. de Kraft, head of the Riviera Industrial Company, is a matter of doubt. Miss Allee thinks she did well, has the distinction of being the only working girl in New York who is older looking for a $25 because she had nothing to say free to an unknown man over to an old man's during a Paris vacation.

Dr. Kraft has a luxurious suit of Very well. Then she told me of his proposal of marriage and her refusal. When she said he was to call on me about it I went, instead, to see him.

Seeks New Position.

When the Dr. de Kraft was brought up on the larceny charge twelve years ago Eugene A. Murray, of German town, Pa., testified that Dr. de Kraft had been arrested there in 1885. On Aug. 1, September, 1904, Dr. de Kraft was arrested on a charge of holding the wife of John Van Horn, of No. 27 West Fifteenth street, a prisoner in his electro-therapeutic home at No. 20 West Thirtieth street. He was discharged at the various times he was in the courts but finally landed in Lullow Street Jail for contempt. At the same time he was going through supplementary proceedings following the rush of creditors upon the Dr. Kraft Nonpareil Company, a concern that was to have manufactured a preservative for milk and cider.

The Dr. de Kraft of the present time, Industrial Company, refused to talk of the record of the Dr. de Kraft who figured in the newspapers a decade ago. Asked about Miss Allee's story of his proposal, Dr. de Kraft said excitedly:

"I do not read the papers. I want nothing to do with them. I have one stenographer and she is on no vacation.

When he was asked whether he had ever employed Miss Allee he shouted:

"If there is anything scandalous in the papers I will make them suffer. Ah, how they will squirm if they but print a word of me."

Little Miss Allee and her mother are from being so violent. Indeed, they not only assert that she refused the doctor's hand, but they certain he is many times a millionaire, which makes the dead all the more heroic. They live at No. 306 West Eighty-eighth street. This mother, a widow, is a stenographer, as is a son employed in the Chase National Bank.

"Lois did quite right," said Mrs. Allee. "Dr. de Kraft is a thorough gentleman and we appreciate the fact that his intentions were the best in the world. But she does not love him, and I would never advise her to marry a man unless she cared greatly for him. All I am afraid of is that she will fall in love with a man who is too poor to support her."

Lois laughed and said artlessly:

"Then, mamma, we'd live near you and everything would be all right."

"Isn't that just like the child?" exclaimed Mrs. Allee. "But she doesn't want to think of marriage for a long time yet. You see we were in the country for several weeks and returned a little more than two weeks ago. Both of us started to find places and Lois was engaged by Dr. de Kraft. She told me she liked the place and that her employer used her

5 CENTS TO CONEY BY CHANGING CARS

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for New York City and vicinity: Showers late this afternoon or to-night. Friday fair. Fresh westerly winds.

Following the payment of many penalties imposed by the State laws, the B. R. T. announced to-day that in future transfers will be issued from the Fifth avenue line to the Thirty-ninth street line, and vice versa.

This means that those taking a Fifth avenue line, either in Manhattan or Brooklyn, will be able to make the trip to Coney Island without changing cars.

Those who do not object to changing cars will be able to ride from any part of the city to Coney Island.

Fullerton Weiss, lawyer, No. 36 Court street, has been victorious over the B. R. T. in hundreds of their actions.

FOUND DEAD IN PARK.

Patron O'Donnell, of the City Hall Station, found the body of a man lying face downward on a path in City Hall Park early today. The man had died probably an hour before. He was a—year-old man, one of the human nonescripts who had lived for years on the park grounds and died as he lived.

A physician declared that the man doubtless died from lack of proper nourishment and alcohol. The body was removed to the Morgue. Not a penny nor a scrap of paper which might indicate the dead man's identity were found in the pockets of the threadbare clothing.

CUPID PACKS UP; HOUSE OF HEARTS FALLING DOWN

Robin Urging Eviction of Love Syndicate.

The House of Hearts is falling down. Yipiwagons barkers, known for the points of interest in town to-day began indicating the abode of Mrs. Isabella Brown and Mrs. Eunice F. Verrelli, &c., the merry, merry maidens of the Upper West Side Matrimonial Bureau, and their megaphone voices were directed at the House of Hearts in West Eighty-second street. The strangers within our gates trained their eyes at the residence from Riverside Drive, where the sight-seeing automobiles gathered at the street end.

Residents of West Eighty-second street have taken steps to lift the spirits, and in a round robin are attempting to make terms with the "widows" by which they can be induced to vacate and the residence rented to less predominantly matrimonial personages. It is understood that the owner of the lease to the property is travelling at present in Europe.

The residence of the house of Mason, which comes out of Nova Scotia, and of which Mrs. Brown is high priestess, continued to be aired in the notices columns. Brother Rufus C. Mason, a member of many companies of the Masonic Knights, was sold to Masonic Lodge 200 in the Jefferson Market Club today under $200 but which did not fully cover the fare of 200 members, still valued at $200, on Aug. 10 from John H. Bunker, who occupies a roomy office in the

RAMLEH

TURKISH CIGARETTES

Probably you don't enjoy the tasteless mildness of many cigarettes, nor find satisfaction in the heaviness of strong cigarettes.

Then you're sure to like the RAMLEH.

RAMLEH Cigarettes have the seasoned flavor that's lacking in mild cigarettes, and the rich fullness of fragrance that only skillful blending of the purest Turkish tobacco can produce.

RAMLEH Cigarettes have a "taste" to them—and that's probably what you want.

Is it any wonder the RAMLEH is such a success? Better try it to-day.
